The Power of Your Personal Brand

Our speaker is Molly McGowan, the owner of Professional Presentations. When you look great you feel great. When you feel great you exude confidence. When you exude confidence your clients have confidence in you. The most successful professionals are the ones who work on themselves first. Molly works with professionals who want to make a lasting, positive impact on their careers. She shares a collection of her experiences and life lessons at her workshops: It's All About You . . . personal branding (appearance, attitude and actions) and It's Not About You . . . how to network effectively to build your professional network.

February WIL Honoree

Molly Short Carr
Executive Director
Journey's End

Molly Short Carr has served as executive director of Journey's End since 2008. Prior to joining Journey's End, Ms. Short established and led the Albany, NY field office of U.S. Committee for Refugees and Immigrants. Earlier in her career, she served as the legal services coordinator for VIVE La Casa in Buffalo.

Ms. Short Carr has a MAOL in Organizational Leadership from Medaille College and BA in Political Science and Urban Studies from Canisius College. Ms. Short Carr has been Board of Immigration Appeal certified since 2003.

Journey's End was founded in 1985 as a volunteer program to assist refugees in the Buffalo community. Today they have 47 regular employees and 35 on-call employees. As a refugee resettlement agency, Journey's End is responsible for all the initial assistance provided to newly arriving refugees. This includes the selection and preparation of a size appropriate apartment for new families; food and goods shopping; airport reception and a warm cooked meal on the day of arrival; cultural orientation; medical and social service needs; and all other aspects of life a refugee may need assistance with upon arrival in Buffalo.

Molly says, "Journey's End is amazing because of the people we serve. As we succeed, refugees succeed. As refugees succeed, Buffalo succeeds."
